Dear Sirs:

I am a class member of the NVIDIA GPU Litigation. I have a Dell Laptop Computer, Service Tag Number GY290G1, which has and still does experience the symptoms described in the litigation.

Having read the Stipulation and Agreement of Settlement and Release, along with Amendments 1 and 2, I wish to object that nowhere can I find anything saying that Dell Computer will provide onsite replacement of the defective graphic component.

It is not in the best interests of anyone to ship the laptop for repair because of possible damage and proprietary information on the hard drive.

Please ensure that onsite replacement is included in the final settlement.
